

Pacific Office Designs are committed to environmental diligence in all phases of our operations and activities. Sustainability starts with conscious purchasing of furniture and associated products and we buy US made products by first choice. We take responsibility for reducing the impact of our activities on the environment seriously, and have been championing local production and manufacturing since our beginnings in 2005. By doing so we have reduced the impact of freight deliveries and supported local businesses throughout the South Bay, and greater California.

Environmental Policy

We partner with manufacturers who:

- Comply with corporate, local, state and federal requirements.
- Minimize the environmental impact of our operations whenever feasible by promoting prevention of pollution, encouraging environmental resource conservation, and resource recycling.
- Strive to ensure that all wastes are handled, stored and disposed of as required not only by legislation but as examples of best practice.
- Propose vendors who manufacture products made from recycled or reclaimed wood products.
- Propose vendors whose material vendor network is committed to responsible forest management.
- Work with vendors and clients to promote responsible use of the products we propose.
- Work with vendors who consider health & safety and environmental impacts during the design, production, distribution and after sales support of their products.
